TO MOTHER

"You ask me to give a toast, boys,
Well, fill your glasses to the brim
And drink to the dearest of women
That live in this world of sin.

All her thoughts are her children,
All her care is for them.
Teaching her girls to be women,
Training her boys to be men.

Is there a soul more grander?
Is there a love more sublime?
Have we a greater friend on earth
From birth to the end of Time?

Than her, whom we call mother,
Who, folding us to her breast,
Helps us to bear our burdens,
Helps us to do our best.

So, fill your glasses up, boys!
And let's drink to her again,
The dearest and sweetest of women—
God bless her dear, dear name!

SIDNEY GLASS,
Feb. 1907.

In Memory of Sarah Miller Glass, Our Beloved Mother.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, April, 1915.

*To the Honorable Woodrow J. Wilson,
President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.*

HONORABLE SIR:—It is with much earnestness in the behalf of the deep interest I feel towards the United States (all of us) that prompts me to take the liberty of penning my thoughts to our Honored President and his great helping hand, our Esteemed Secretary of State, Wm. Jennings Bryan, which I hope will be accepted with the same regard as it is sent.

One is only a unit in this great Universe and yet it can be of great importance because it goes to make the millions, and so I feel with myself—that being a unit I must do my share by writing my thoughts to you. I read the newspapers very little, but what I hear and read of the terrible catastrophe—the war, I absorb, which sets me to thinking (even though I have my duties which are allotted to me, a wife and mother of two sons, which shall always be uppermost in my mind), but my heart is with the people in these terrible hours and it has come to me as I pray and hope it has to our President—that we should rise above ourselves (not to the skies) but nevertheless near God, whose spirit will descend to meet us (to those who are willing to go half way). This practical world would then lose only to gain through becoming more inspiring.

If our President, whom God gives in his power to adjust wrongs of others, a noble part to inspire the people of America, one an all (they say the pen is mightier than the sword), therefore our President can pen words of strength and courage which the people will listen to—words of self-denial that should be practiced in every shape and form (to those people who indirectly have a hand in this great fight—who hiding like sneak thieves, so-called cowards, protecting their bodies on this side of the ocean and at the same time sending shot and shell to other nations to kill other people—rob them of their lives so they can have all the bread and butter they want. May our President find a way—God's way—to make his name immortal to our sons and again let the pen become mightier than the sword, for I feel the outcome of this great war rests with the United States—whether we will sink in their depths or help them rise above theirs.

Yours very respectfully,

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, April, 1915.

Russh and Belg started the war, it when on very hard. At last Germany said to the Belg King we wont go through your country, along time after that Germany had to go through Belg, but Belg would not let them go through. Germany said we will go through. So Germany and Belg had war, it went on about six months the Germany won the war. England and France, Russh all went together to fight Germany now. Russh I think is little sorry that she went. I will tell you why that Germany had go to help Hung that why Germany had to go through Belg. I think it was said that Holland started to help Germany but after she said know. Then Trc said to Germany I will help you after a while, the poor Trc are cold and very hungry, so if England, France and Russh gets through Trc is done up. Some of the Germany soldier that are in Belg are giving food to children, mothers and fathers. Now the Jap and Chanes are having war gast each other. American and Mexs are having war.

All this stock that is sent from Ur to American are come I will tell you England, Russh and France keep stock that why the war began.

President Woodrow J. Wilson.

HONORED SIR:—The enclosed I sent a few weeks ago, hoping and trusting our President received it, when two weeks later that terrible disaster, the sinking of the Lusitania (to so many innocent lives) made me feel all the more that the letter I sent was a God-inspired one.

Forgive me if I say your message to Kaiser Wilhelm bespoke not the beautiful sentiments you expressed previously to the people. Unwittingly I am sure the uppermost in your mind at the time is protection to your people. If we wish to retain peace we must do what is fair, stop all sending of ammunition, be neutral in every sense of the word.

The sinking of the Lusitania I could not help but feel that something like that would happen, to come as a warning. In my letter I expressed my feelings, viz., there is only one way (God's way). We live to learn. The sinking of the Lusitania should be United States' lesson, that some died that others might be saved.

My letter came back two-fold. We must either rise above the other countries in every way or sink in their depths and you, who are father of our country, hold us in your keeping whether for good or for worse. We parents of our children should be fair to them, for charity begins at home. I would be the last one not to ask for justice, for right is might.

MADAM:—The Department acknowledges the receipt of your letter of July 16th, and of the enclosed copy of your letter to the President, with reference to the attitude of the United States towards the belligerent countries of Europe.

I am, Madam,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) WILLIAM PHILLIPS,
Third Assistant Secretary.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, July 16, 1915.

Secretary of State R. C. Lansing.

HONORED SIR:—Again I take the liberty of penning my thoughts prompted by an inward feeling that I should, hoping you will give me a hearing by proxy for the deep and anxious regard I feel for the present crisis of the United States, praying that United States will rise out of this conflict without discord with any nation; but being the instrument of harmony between all nations.

Surely this is now the hour to strike for peace.

War is waging between other countries. What strategy each country can think of to win, thereby bringing war sooner to a close, is their right. Put ourselves in their place. Are we not thinking now what we can invent greater than the submarine, or still even more effective? This nation is now at peace.

If the President has not the power to stop the sending of ammunition, that makes the United States seem we are one-sided in our sympathy for this terrible calamity that has befallen other countries, for it is our duty to make each nation feel our sympathy. Germany says they are sending ammunition. Is that neutrality, is that sympathy? If the President cannot prevent that, it is at least our right to stop other nations from receiving same and America's plain duty is to issue a proclamation warning all citizens of the danger to them in crossing in war zones. The loss of American lives was as much America's innocent fault as Germany's duty to protect their people. Who can prove there was no ammunition on board the Lusitania? Only God and time. Therefore let that sad incident make us feel that some died so others might be saved.

What is it we want today? To give peace to others. Today it is in our power to do our part towards the people of other countries. Not the few, but the many. If we cannot prevent sending of ammunition (it is too late for that), it is then the United States' part to warn all citizens from traveling in the war zones, in the name of justice and peace.

America has always risen above mistakes. It is only human to err and God fearing to rise above. "Apprehension of the Imputation of the want of firmness sometimes impells us to perform rash and inconsiderate acts. It is the greatest courage to be able to hear the imputation of the want of courage."

America's flag has always stood for peace. The memory of George Washington, Father of our Country, is surely crowned, while our flag breathes the air of peace.

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

I can only express truer my sentiments by sending the enclosed.

NOTE.—The enclosure referred to was an appropriate toast to America, proposed by ——— at the Centennial of the United States of America.

President Woodrow J. Wilson.

HONORED SIR:—According to the dictates of my heart I write the following sentiments: To me this crisis between United States and Germany is a God-send for the United States to be the instigator of peace, with and between all nations. Now is the hour to strike for peace, to insist on England's stoppage of blockade as contended for in the letter to Germany's "Freedom of the Seas." If England won't, then sever connections with both countries until the war is over, to show we want peace with and between all nations; then the people of this country and other countries will surely bless our President and the memory of George Washington will be crowned.

President Woodrow J. Wilson.

HONORED SIR:—Once again I write to plead with you, if for no other sake but humanity's, keep United States away from the quicksand which is gobbling us up, not knowing how near or how soon. Keep us all from the danger line by putting up warning signs. (If nations and men would do wrong, that would bring on trouble for the United States, why the only thing left for us to do is to sever connections, with the principle participants, leaving them entirely alone to fight their own battles.) No third party can settle a quarrel when it becomes impossible to make them see we would be their friends, when they fail to understand that, then they become bitter; to fight the interfering party, viz., Germany, or, not appreciating one's good will, viz., England's attitude, and this is the case of United States, the third party, trying to bring about peace; but if we see we are going to sink in their mire we should keep away from them in every manner, shape or form.

For God's sake, make this rule good in the instance of Great Britain and Germany to sever connections with both countries until their battles are over. If we cannot find a way to bring peace to them, surely we have a right to protect ourselves, so I beg in the name of humanity, protect our country from war.

The only way for a friend, when kindness fails, is to show one's contempt for quarreling by keeping distance.

United States was kind and failed.

I pray you sever connections with both countries and win for all.

God knows my spirit is truly American!

With deepest regards,

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

Ein Frauenherz

Maßt sich in einem Brief an Präsident Wilson Luft.

Frau Nathan Cohen von 416 Rockdale Avenue, die wie alle feinfühligen Frauen das europäische Kriegselend mitempfindet und vor allem das eigene Vaterland vor den Schrecken bewahrt zu sehen wünscht, hat dem Präsidenten Wilson schon mehrere Briefe geschrieben, worin sie ihn beschwört, durch den rechten Kurs die Vereinigten Staaten aus dem Kriege herauszuhalten. Auf ihren ersten Brief empfing Frau Nathan eine sehr kurz abgefaßte Empfangsbestätigung vom Sekretär Tumulty. Da die Dame aber gern wissen möchte, was der Präsident von ihren Vorschlägen denkt, hat sie ihm gestern abermals geschrieben. Dieser Brief, in welchem sich ein edles Frauenherz Luft macht, lautet:

„Ich schreibe Ihnen wieder, um Fürbitte einzulegen, wenn auch aus keinem andern Grunde, so doch aus dem der Humanität, die Vereinigten Staaten aus der gefährlichen Nähe des Trieblands zu entfernen, der uns zu verschlingen droht und wir wissen nicht wie bald. Halten Sie uns von der Gefahrlinie fern, indem Sie Warnungstafeln anbringen. Wenn Nationen oder Männer Unrecht thun, wodurch den Vereinigten Staaten Schwierigkeiten erwachsen könnten, dann bleibt uns nichts anders übrig, als die Verbindungen mit den Hauptbetheiligten abzubrechen und ihnen das Schlagen ihrer Schlachten ganz allein zu überlassen. Kein Dritter vermag einen Streit zu schlichten, wenn es unmöglich ist, die Streitenden davon zu überzeugen, daß er ihr Freund ist und es gut mit ihnen meint. Sie werden erbittert wie Deutschland oder sie mißverstehen unser Eingreifen und mißachten uns wie England, und in dieser Lage des Dritten, des Friedensstifters, befinden sich die Vereinigten Staaten. Wenn sie unsere Vermittlung aber von sich stoßen und wir sehen, wie wir immer weiter hineingezogen werden in den Sumpf, dann sollten wir uns auf jede Art und Weise und unter allen Umständen fernhalten.

„Um Gottes Willen machen Sie sich diese Regel zur Richtschnur Großbritannien und Deutschland gegenüber und brechen Sie den Verkehr mit ihnen ab, bis der Krieg vorbei ist. Wenn wir nicht den rechten Weg finden können, um ihnen den Frieden zu bringen, so haben wir sicherlich das Recht, uns selbst zu schützen, und im Namen der Menschlichkeit bitte ich Sie, bewahren Sie uns vor dem Krieg. Ich beschwöre Sie noch einmal, brechen Sie die Beziehungen mit den beiden Ländern ab und gewinnen Sie für Alle. Gott kennt meine Gesinnung als wahre Amerikanerin u. s. w.“

So He Should Not Be Guilty of Any Indiscretion Towards the Nation.

It was a momentous question, "the pen being mightier than the sword, a message to be sent to the Kaiser, awaiting his signature. The words contained therein, he thought from his point of view, would cause a misunderstanding abroad and might throw the people far from what they so prayfully seek—Peace.

YOUR EMINENCE:—Some time ago I wanted to send the enclosed letters, which I had written at different times to our Honored President, Woodrow J. Wilson, receiving kind acknowledgements from his Secretary, J. P. Tumulty.

At the time of the interview between Your Reverence and our Honored President, an item in the newspapers to the effect that if any one person, community or church would try their best to bring about peace, his Holiness, Pope Pius X., would be their support. His Holiness, Pope Pius X., was right. There could be persons that feel and do things (not necessarily in a body). Then I wanted to send your Reverence my letters, but my time was not my own. (Domestic duties.) Now I feel I can take the pen once again, so as not to be selfish in my domestic happiness. Therefore these letters—to reach the outside world. “Go, tell and help thy brethren.”

Thanking you, with reverence,

DEAR MADAM:—This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 27th ult., addressed to Mr. Henry Ford, with which you enclosed copies of several letters and a poem, for which please accept thanks.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, November 27th, 1915.

Mr. Henry Ford:

Reading of your noble project in behalf of peace I feel I cannot do other than send you the enclosed (feeling you would be happy to hear of same) letters that I have been sending from time to time to our Honored President, Woodrow J. Wilson, having received kind acknowledgments at different times from his Secretary, J. P. Tumulty, also State Department. I sent these letters to Count Von Bernstorff, receiving acknowledgment and thanking me for sending them and that they were read with "great interest." I feel this is a wonderful idea, your sending the Ship of Peace as a symbol of what countries should stand for, "Peace on earth and good will towards men." If need be to die for the cause, but not for war.

God's speed to your Ship of State.

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, December 10th, 1915.

Secretary of State, R. C. Lansing.

HONORED SIR:—I am obeying not an impulse, but an inspiration in sending again letters I have written from time to time. The first one before the sinking of the Lusitania; the second one after our Honored President's first message to Germany; the third letter, after the second note to Germany, "Freedom of the Seas"; the fourth letter at the time of the first crisis between the United States and Germany, in July, and then the fifth letter, inspired by words of Abraham Lincoln: "With malice towards none, with charity towards all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right." I beg of you to read the enclosed letters.

Thanking you,

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 2nd, 1916.

*Honorable Woodrow J. Wilson,
President of the United States.*

HONORED SIR:—Forgive me for writing again, but these terrible disasters on the waters, jeopardizing so many innocent lives, lives also in United States keeping, has again aroused that still small voice within me and is echoed to the President of the United States (by my writing of same), on whose shoulders falls that great responsibility which under oath becomes a sacred one: the care of the welfare of the people whom he governs.

They say it is an ill wind that blows some one good.

The ill winds of war now sweeping countries abroad, the innocent suffering for the guilty, the weak ruled by the strong; that should be United States' lesson. Like storms governed by disturbances of Nature that works havoc to all that comes in its path (God sent the wind, rain and sun for the purification of mankind).

The terrible war, the outcome of man's wrong-doing. Those who died a martyr's death, their memory will live in generations to come as an incentive for right-doing. God gives us the power to reason between right and wrong. As we cast our bread upon the water, so shall it return to us. The bread of unselfishness, of courage, justice, faith and hope, these attributes of man the gift of God gives man the power of Peace over himself and others.

So stands the case of the United States and other countries not at war for the people to put forth these great attributes (to gain for their country and other countries the power of peace) by severing connections with the warring countries in every manner, shape and form until their battles are over. Then, and then only, will countries be exempt from war and have the power of peace for their country and other countries, for whosoever follows God's precepts, God's blessing will be upon them.

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 11th, 1916.

*Honorable Woodrow J. Wilson,
President of the United States.*

HONORED SIR:—I take the liberty of thanking you for the day you have set aside for collections of contribution in behalf of the Jewish war sufferers. As President of our country I send you the enclosed (which I had written some time ago), knowing you will do all that lies in your power for your fellow men.

Forgive me for adding to your many worries. May your future be blessed with much happiness.

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

ARE WE NOT OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER?

CINCINNATI, OHIO, December 26th, 1915.

To the Editor of The Commercial Tribune:

The time has come for Jews of America to seek justice to be done the people of our religion in other countries in demanding their rights as people of a nation not to be oppressed on account of religion.

We should not stand for Zionism, we should not want a country of one religion, but to have our rights in all countries. Jews are a religion, not of one nation, but of all nations; the country of our birth or the land of our adoption, whether in Germany, Russia, England or America, the melting pot of all religions and all races—by races meaning color (Caucasian, Negro, Mongolian or Indian).

We Jews should assimilate, not as a religion, but for a religion; we should demand our rights as people of nations; we have been hiding ourselves too long, seeming in a cloak of too self-satisfied, too patiently waiting for time to work wonders. God helps those who help themselves, for might is not always right, then our right should be our might to help our co-religionists in other countries gain their rights as people of a nation.

Jewdaism and Christianity stand for peace and harmony.

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

The above was the enclosure sent to President Woodrow J. Wilson, January 11th, 1916, referred to in the letter.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 13th, 1916.

Benjamin F. Trueblood, L. LD.

ESTEEMED SIR:—Reading your pamphlet on the Historic Development of the Peace Idea, and also feeling deeply that peace and not war should prevail in the heart of mankind, I write you the following message:

Jesus, one of the Prophets of Peace of Israel; a true son of God in every sense of the word. Are we not all God's children? A Jew preaching Judaism, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

It was through no fault of Jesus that Christianity became Jesus as God. Jesus did not intend they should do that, but lived not to hear the tale, else would have vindicated those who made no God of him, only knowing him to be a good pious priest, teaching of God and His wonderful works, and they (Israel) were persecuted in turn.

Therein lies the difference between Judaism and Christianity. The one knowing him to be a good man and pious priest, the other worshipping him as God, forgetting the commandments were handed down by older priests of Israel, inspired also by the spirit of God in man, which spark is in every man, only to be kindled by the power of right thinking.

I close, saying with you, that sense of kinship and brotherhood is the root from which all peace springs.

Sincerely,

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

"UNITED STATE"

TO OUR PRESIDENT.

BY MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

President Wilson, a knight brave and true,
Commanding our flag, the red, white and blue,
Has gone to the front at the country's call,
But not with shot or shell—
For peace he loves too well.

With messages of fairness to other countries' foes,
And words of firmness to his men
That no unworthiness they show
To brothers in a foreign land.

The fight is victorious,
Great and glorious;
Not a drop of blood was shed,
No aching heart that bled.

We will ever bless our President,
Who has won the greatest of battles
For the red, white and blue,
America, the land of the staunch and the true.

(As printed in Commercial Tribune, Cincinnati, O. Same sent also to Count Von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, and Wm. Jennings Bryan.)

THE WAR.

(WRITTEN FOR MY MOTHER.)

January 15, 1916.

The war began because a Serb sby put a bomb in the prince and princess' coach of Austria. The bomb exploded and they were killed, and the Austria king was made mad and he said that the man who did that should be hang, but the Serb king said no and then the Austria king send a note to the Serb king and said, we declare war or have him hang, but again they said no. So England, France and Russia came to aid the Serbs, and for Austria's aid Germany, Turkey and Italy. Now before the war started the Kaiser said to the king of Belgium that he would not go through her country because they knew this war fifty years ago. So when the war started Germany had to help Austria to fight France, so they had to go through Bellgeum, but Bellgeum said no, you can't go through our country. Belgeum and Germany had war and Germany won.

About March or April, in 1915, a ship named the Lustaina was sunk by a German subrien. Lot of American people were on it. It was an English ship. All these American people thought that Germany will have to pay for this. The president was a little mad. In a few mounths latter a nother ship was senk. He was very mad then, and he said that Germany must not have freedom of the seas. Just at this time England was putting mines in the seas, so if any ship would strike it, it would blow up. Now, when Italy knew this, she tor up the papers and went to England. After that the Serbs were all captured, but before that the Warsaw of Russia and a few more cityes were captured. The Serb lost in November, 1915. After thet England borroed money off of America. But in Germany the make there things thereself. So if Germany is still making her things it is allright. In December two more ships were blown up by a German subrien. Now Germany agrees with American note.

I think Germany will win. United States I don't think will be in the war, because they did not sign the paper with neither Germany or England. I think now France is doing all the work because she is quite. Canada and America are making thoussing and thousing airplanes.

This is as far as I read and figured out of my head.

*Speaker Champ Clark,
House of Representatives,
Washington, D. C.*

ESTEEMED SIR:—I take the great privilege of sending you this little book, containing thoughts of mine in letters I addressed at different times to our Honorable President and Secretary of State.

Because my whole heart and soul is wrapped up in the welfare of the United States (as only one should be) in the different issues that arise from the war abroad—

I cannot do other than beg of you to read these letters (on pages 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 26, 27 and 33) to the gentlemen of Congress.

I feel that severing connections in every manner, shape and form will be the only solution of great problems that arise with countries that are at war and those countries that are not at war.

If there is to be a war with countries it should be only when Peace cannot be had with Honor (Humanity and Justice).

Very respectfully,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

ESTEEMED SIR:—I take the great privilege of writing you lines I have addressed to our Honored President, to express my sentiment of United States' present crisis on the Mexico situation. It reads as follows:

With deep regards,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

TO OUR PRESIDENT.

Mexico now should see that United States their friend would be. We our duty by them have done to rid them of that murderous clan, who to United States, did come to taunt us into fighting them. President Wilson gave the word, to Carranza did send thousands and more of brave men, so that Peace once more could be restored.

Now their part they've nobly done. May God bless and send them home, renew their strength if again the call should come to serve their country and their fellow-men.

NOTE: The above lines sent to President Woodrow J. Wilson at a previous date, and also same addressed to General Carranza as First Chief of the Constitutionalists.

CINCINNATI, O., April 19, 1916.

*President Woodrow J. Wilson,
United States of America.*

HONORABLE SIR:—With firmness in the right as God gives me to see the right I send the following lines, viz:

Again this crisis between United States and Germany is a godsend for United States to be the instigator of Peace with and between all Nations to insist also on England's stoppage of blockade, as United States contends for "Freedom of the seas."

I believe the only stronghold of Peace for countries who are not at war is in the severing of connections with countries who are at war (until their battles are over).

War will be when Peace is not had with Honor, Humanity, and Justice.

With reverence,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

MY DEAR SIR:—I ask your pardon for not having answered ere this your kind letter as I had hoped to do. I appreciate very much your praise, and I am happy to say with you (in other words) the Jewish heart is the biggest (God meant it should be so); therefore it is only natural that we give forth that which is our part to do.

I am thankful I have learned (in the death of my beloved mother) that God's will be done, not ours.

May I and those who have (taken the lesson to heart) never weaken but be up and doing, and in that thought I feel we will always find Peace.

I thank you for your letter of sincere expression and remain, with kind regards,

CINCINNATI WOMAN WHO ADVOCATES PEACE PRAISES PRESIDENT IN VERSE

Eight-Year-Old Son of Mrs. Cohen Writes History of War as Seen Through a Boy's Eyes.

May is regarded by Mrs. Henrietta Nathan Cohen, of 416 Rockdale avenue, Avondale, as peculiarly a month for peace, and she has been active along those lines. In addition to letters written to the authorities in Washington, asking that they bend their efforts toward world-peace, Mrs. Cohen has sent May calendars throughout the country. They carry the likenesses of President and Mrs. Wilson and a copy of verses written by Mrs. Cohen and dedicated to the various peace leagues.

Mrs. Cohen's eight-year-old son, Sigmund Miller Cohen, wrote a brief history of the war from a boy's viewpoint.

Espero recibiría ese ejemplar de mi periódico, pues se lo hice enviar a fin de que se enterara Ud. de él.

Las reformas que introduzco actualmente en mi Revista son el principio de la completa transformación que de ella quiero hacer. La escasez de papel fino me impide editar el periódico como yo deseara, pero las personas cultas como Ud. apreciarán el con tenido mayor que la parte material, y estimularán de segura mis esfuerzos. Entre esas personas quisiera yo contar a todas las damas progresistas que tengan amistad con Ud. a fin de que estrechando nuestras relaciones consiguiéramos con mayor facilidad el acercamiento efectivo de la mujer norteamericana y la mexicana, tan necesario para influir en el futuro de nuestros respectivos países.

YOUR HONOR:—From one whose prayer is for peace with and between countries. To Mexico:

Mexico now should see that United States their friend would be. President Wilson gave the word—General Carranza did send thousands and more of brave men to help subdue that murderous clan who came to the United States to taunt us into fighting them. Now their part therein is bravely done. May God bless and send them home, renew their strength, if again the call should come to serve their country and their fellow-men.

"MESSAGES OF PEACE."

Mrs. Nathan Cohen, of Cincinnati, whose name has become familiar in connection with peace movements, is the author of a book, "Messages of Peace," which has found its way into the hands of the heads of nearly all the governments in the world. Mrs. Cohen has also prepared a calendar, "A Toast to the United States of Peace," which has been widely circulated and for which she has acknowledgements from the leading public men and officials of the United States and other countries.

Mrs. Cohen (Henrietta Glass) is a daughter of the late Mrs. Sarah Miller-Glass, an old Cincinnati family.

Recently copies of Mrs. Cohen's productions were sent to Mexico and a very complimentary editorial appeared in "La Mujer Moderna," a journal published in the City of Mexico, in charge of Senorita Hermila Galindo, who subscribes herself as "co-religionist and friend." The paper containing the editorial was transmitted with a letter from the editor and the two, which will fully explain themselves, follow:

LETTER FROM SENORITA GALINDO.

MEXICO, August 15, 1916.

Mrs. Nathan Cohen, Cincinnati, O.

DEAR MADAM:—With sincere satisfaction I received your kind letter of the 4th of this month, and likewise your remittance of 50 cents gold, which has been placed to subscription account.

With much pleasure I have read your booklet and in No. 42 of my weekly I have written a notice about it, reproducing the dedications to me and to my country, which you gave in the booklet. I trust you will receive a copy of this number of my weekly, since I am sending you a copy so that you will read this notice.

The reforms which I introduced recently in my review are but the beginning of those which I hope to achieve. The scarcity of good paper prevents me from putting out the paper in the form I wish, but cultivated persons like yourself will appreciate the contents rather than the form, and will stimulate my efforts. Among these persons, I hope to count all progressive women who are your friends, to the end that in making our relations closer, we shall accomplish with more facility the nearer approach of the North American women and the Mexican women, so necessary to influence the future of our two countries.

I remain most attentively your co-religionist and friend,

HERMILA GALINDO.

(Reprint from La Mujer Moderna.)

LA MUJER MODERN EDITORIAL.

(TRANSLATION.)

Mrs. Nathan Cohen, of Cincinnati, Ohio, one of the most active partisans of peace between Mexico and the United States, has been good enough to send our esteemed Directress, with a pleasing dedication, a copy of her well edited pamphlet, "Messages of Peace," which is a summary of writings relative to her work in behalf of Peace between two countries.

The sympathy which the above mentioned lady feels for Mexico is well expressed in the autographed lines which appear on another page of the pamphlet alluded to, and which literally translated, read:

"To Mexico: Mexico will now see that the United States, through the leadership of President Wilson, will fulfill the promises made to D. Benustiano Carranza, of sending several thousand brave men to assist in reducing to submission the invading bandits, the promise once fulfilled, that those doing the noble deed will receive the blessing of God and return to their country, renewed in strength, should some need arise at another time for serving their country and countrymen."

Her dedication to which we made reference says:

"To the Senorita Hermila Galindo, propagandist of feminism and editor of the 'La mujer moderna,' from one whose wishes are for the peace of both countries."

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

These noble words breathe good-will, and give an understanding of the one who has spoken them and we desire to take in our hands the loyal hand of her who has said them.

Yes, Mrs. Cohen, here as there, we covet peace, but peace as we understand it as the worthy Jaurez understood it; resting on respect for another's rights; and we desire that the right of Mexico be respected as Mexico has respected that of others.

CINCINNATI, O., September 8, 1916.

DEAR FRIEND:—I know you will forgive me when you know the reason I had not answered your welcome letter ere this. I was so desirous of having the different editors of the newspapers here read your beautiful letter to me and the kind appreciation so generously expressed in your review of my efforts in behalf of Peace. I am sending you a copy of the American Israelite—a paper devoted to Jewish interests. Mr. Isadore Wise, the editor, was pleased to have for his columns your letter to me and article which appears on page 6 of the paper. I was happy to know you are of my religion. I feel sure this one instance our mutual understanding will gain a great deal in the awakening (in more than one way) of what women can do towards the furtherment of Good Will between people and countries. The vote is not the most essential, is it? The vote for man or woman and not the true understanding is infinitely worse than no vote and true understanding, and so in the meantime the women who do things, accomplishing good, will go on doing so, patiently waiting for their right of vote to be granted them.

Dear friend, it is true. Peace is where each respects each other's right, and cannot be without Honor—Humanity—Justice.

I am sending you a little calendar I designed; I know you will like it (dedicated to Peace Leagues). How I wish I could understand Spanish; I have started to learn. I am sorry, though, it will be quite a while until I will be able to read your weekly reviews, as my time only permits my lessons to be few and far between, so I will have to be patient. The designs of your paper are artistic, and I feel that its contents can only accomplish good.

Hoping this letter reaches you in the best of health, and with regards to your kind assistance, I am happy to remain

Your friend,

HENRIETTA NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, O., September 10, 1916.

Mr. Patrick J. Levy.

ESTEEMED SIR:—Your kind letter received and I thank you very much for your expressions of appreciation of my "Messages of Peace." Your thoughtfulness in so doing encourages me all the more to go on, for there is to be a second volume, it is now under way at the publishers (the two combined). I had 200 of the first booklet and they are all gone, I am sorry to say—that still small voice bid me quite often to send them—therefore I am all the more anxious to have the other finished, since you have kindly taken the interest requesting me for some for your friends, whom I know will appreciate inspired thoughts. Of course it is with me as it should be with every one, combining work and pleasure together—my family (domestic duties), my pleasure, my messages, my work.

Sigmund was pleased at his being remembered and joins me in thanking you for your letter.

Hoping it to be a short while until I send you the books, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, October 4, 1916.

Mr. S. H. Friedlander.

DEAR SIR:—I am sorry your letter of September 5th ult. had not been answered ere this. I hope you will pardon me for my seeming negligence (but such was not the case).

I am sending you a copy of my booklet, and also calendar. I am busy having Volume No. 2 compiled, and as soon as complete will take pleasure in sending you a copy.

Sincerely,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

QUERIDA AMIGA:—A mi regreso de la capital, de Cuba donde permanecí más de un mes en viaje de propaganda, me encontré con la muy apreciable carta de usted, en la cual he encontrado un gran espíritu de justicia por lo cual la felicite una voz más.

Respecte a mis apreciaciones sobre la labor de usted en favor de la paz, no encierran más que justicia.

Veo que es usted una verdadera enamorada de la justicia humana cosa que mucho la enaltece a usted y ¡jalá hubiese en el mundo muchas mujeres de sus ideas y aspiraciones.

Dey a usted de corazón las más expresivas gracias por las frases de encomio que tiene para mi Revista, y crea usted que ponga tode empeño en ella, pues tengo sumo interés en hacer un bien positive a mis semejantes, en particular a las personas de mi sexo.

El periódico "El Ysraelita Americano" que dice me remitió no se ha recibido en esta Redacción y mucho lo siento, pues desearía publicar algo de su contenido que imagino y estoy segura ha de ser muy interesante.

Al despedirme por ahora de usted, deseo de todas veras que se encuentre gezando de cabal salud, quedando una vez más su fiel amiga.

A large, elegant handwritten signature in cursive script that reads 'Hermila Galindo'. The signature is followed by a long, flowing horizontal line that loops back under the name.

NOTA.—Tampoco recibí el calendario. Proximamente apareará en mi Perúdico la conferencia feminista que di en la Habana la cual recomiendo a su lectura y no dudo que sed. Con el entusiasmo que la caracteriza, con sus altas idealidades y con la nobleza de corazón acogerá estus ideas para que principiemos a formar la "Asociación Mundeal" en bien de nuestro sexo.

Le envia un abrazo su sincera amiga,

HERMILA.

(Translation of letter of October 14, 1916, in Spanish, from Hermila Galindo.)

DEAR FRIEND:

On my return from the capital of Cuba, where I stayed over a month on matters concerning the propaganda, I found your most estimable letter, in which I found expressed a most fitting sense of justice and I congratulate you once more upon these sentiments.

In respect to my appreciation of your work in favor of peace, you certainly have it to the fullest extent.

I see that you are in truth enamored of human justice, and your sentiments are worthy of emulation and it would be well if there were more women in this world with your ideas and aspirations.

I thank you with all my heart for the words of praise bestowed on my "Review," and I am much indebted to you, for I am much interested in my fellow beings, especially those of my own sex.

The periodical, "American Israelite," which you are sending me, has not yet been received in this office. I am anxious to have it, for I wish to publish some of its contents, which I imagine and am sure of being very interesting.

Taking leave of you for today, I desire in truth that you are in perfect health, and once more I remain

Your faithful friend,

HERMILA GALINDO.

NOTE.—Neither have I received the Calendar. Before long there will appear in my periodical an account of the "feminist" conference which was held in Havana, and I recommend it for your perusal. I have no doubt that you, with the enthusiasm which characterizes you, with your high ideals and your noble courage, will embrace these ideas, so that we may begin to form a "Universal Association" for the good of our sex.

With an embrace from your sincere friend,

HERMILA.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, October 18, 1916.

Secretary of State R. C. Lansing.

ESTEEMED SIR:—I beg to quote the following: "Man Proposes, God Disposes."

That still small voice bids me again write in the cause of Peace, viz:

The people of America to stand by "freedom of the seas."

The arms of protection of Ship of Commerce to be a flag—an International Flag.

If warring countries do not accept conditions, to sever connections in every manner, shape and form till their battles are over.

Peace cannot be without Honor, Humanity and Justice.

P. S.—I wish to add I have a design of my idea of an International Flag and will take the great liberty of sending the drawing.

A Servant to the Cause,

(Signed) MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

MY DEAR MRS. COHEN:

The President deeply appreciates your kind message, and he asks me to thank you warmly for having sent it.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary of State, R. C. Lansing.

ESTEEMED SIR:—I cannot help but write again, thanking God that it has been my privilege to give vent to that sentiment which lays nearest to my heart, Peace (encouraged also by the due regard my letters to the Government have been received). I feel the United States once again stands in a position to act for Peace abroad and for our protection.

United States word now should be the Commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill." The war from now on would be a war of vengeance. Vengeance is Mine saith the Lord.

Earnestly,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

I am sending a copy of my design of an International flag for ships of commerce.

I thank you.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 8, 1917.

Ambassador Count Von Bernstorff.

MOST ESTEEMED SIR:—Prayerfully I send the following lines:

To him who hath, shall be given.

The Kaiser, whom God has given the power of war also is given the power of Peace.

The greater one is the more humble himself.

Faith and meekness are God's delight.

In the hand of God is the prosperity of man.

He that taketh heed of the Commandments offereth a Peace offering.

Render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's, and unto God the things which are God—

Peace for God's children.

He that serveth the Lord shall be accepted with favor.

For if we forgive men their trespasses, surely our Heavenly Father will forgive ours.

Such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Wise men then will see the Star of Bethlehem to shine—

“Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men.”

Thoughtfully,

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, January 24, 1917.

Secretary of State, R. C. Lansing.

HONORED SIR:—To me, January 22, 1917, will be a day always to be remembered, to give thanks to God for giving the United States one—President Woodrow J. Wilson—who imparted his power as spokesman for the people in the hour of the world's crisis in so learned and noble a way.

A sentiment that breathes Justice for the world (which in turn breeds Peace).

"The Pen is mightier than the Sword."

MRS. NATHAN COHEN.

CINCINNATI, O., February 4, 1917.

*Hon. President Woodrow J. Wilson,

DEAR PRESIDENT:—The extra gave the news, the severing of relations with Germany.

I could only say, Thank God! and in the same breath utter a prayer that relations with England be also severed.
